

THAW LOSES FIGHT; MEANS DEPORTATION

JUDGE HUTCHINSON SUSTAINS WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS TAKEN OUT FOR THAW BY NEW YORK LAWYERS.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Immigration Officer Arrests Matteawan Fugitive As Undesirable Alien As He Leaves Court Room.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 3.—Harry K. Thaw today lost his fight to defy deportation by remaining in the Sherbrooke jail. Judge Hutchinson this afternoon sustained a writ of habeas corpus calling for his release.

Thaw remained dazed for possibly three minutes. The crowd began to leave the judge's chamber in silence. Thaw followed unhesitatingly.

As he crossed the threshold E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, tapped him on the shoulder and placed him officially under arrest as an undesirable alien.

The crowd then surged from the building and it was announced that Thaw would be taken immediately to Coaticook for a hearing. Thaw's lawyers seemed stunned. The officers of the immigration department escorted them in the corridors.

"I'll see you in Coaticook, boys," said Thaw, waving his hands to the reporters. The court's ruling will be rendered in writing and he agreed to summon counsel to chambers in ample time for his delivery. If the writ is sustained Thaw will be ejected from the Sherbrooke jail and arrested by the immigration officers for deportation.

La Plante of Montreal, one of the most prominent criminal lawyers in the dominion, came here today to reinforce the Thaw lawyers. He was retained in the case some time ago, but up to now has taken no active part in the fight.

It was reported today that Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of the fugitive, soon will arrive in Sherbrooke to arrange with counsel for their fees and expenses. Some of the Thaw lawyers have again expressed dissatisfaction over the fact that no responsible head of the family has remained on the scene and that while money was talked of no large amounts have been in evidence.

A by-product of Thaw's escape, the case of "Gentleman Roger" Thompson, chauffeur of the car that whirled Thaw away from Matteawan, set trial before Magistrate Mulholland today.

Three Petty Officers And Five Other Men From Battleship Nebraska Lost Lives Is Report.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 3.—Three petty officers and five men of the battleship Nebraska were drowned today when one of the ship's launches was wrecked in a hurricane sweeping the coast here. The Nebraska is at anchor off Fort Monroe but the shore wireless has been put out of commission by the storm and communication by small boats is impossible. Their names are not made known ashore. The drowned men were attempting to make shore when men on the wharves who had watched their perilous passage say a water spout struck the launch, overturned it, and the men and boat disappeared in the waves and spume.

The hurricane which has been blowing since early morning is accompanied by almost blinding winds of rain but the battleship seemed to be out-riding it well.

INQUIRY STARTED AS TO CAUSE OF WRECK

Thorough Investigation of Conditions Which Surrounded the Terrible Accident Tuesday.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—The death list in the Wallingford wreck still stood at 21 this morning and the hospital list at 17. The railroad company played the leading parts in the New Haven times latest tragedy. Meanwhile the machinery for the usual county, state and federal investigation was in motion. Coroner Mix and Chief Engineer E. J. well of the state public utilities commission resumed this morning the secret investigation which they began yesterday jointly with the railroad company. The interstate commerce commission investigators on their arrival today found practically no vestige of the wreck along the New Haven right of way.

Notwithstanding telegraph orders from the commission that the wreckage lay undisturbed officials of the road sent gangs of men clearing up the wreckage after the crash. The two rear Pullmans of the Bar Harbor express, where nearly all the loss of life occurred, were reduced to splinters by the crash. All the wreckage that could be burned was piled up in a dozen or more bon fires, kindled close to the right of way. The wreckage of the locomotive was hauled away with the remains of the third Pullman.

The second section of the coroner's inquiry began shortly before ten o'clock this morning. August B. Miller, engineer of the White Mountain express, was called to tell more of the circumstances under which his train crashed into the standing Bar Harbor train. Elbert A. Robinson, his fireman, Bruce B. Adams, conductor of the Bar Harbor train and Charles Murray, the flagman sent back to protect the train from collision, were ordered to submit to long cross examinations.

The hearing was held in camera in the office of the railroad's general manager, and no information as to the testimony was made public except briefly to the railroad's press agent. As yesterday the railroad insisted that the "testimony shows plainly that the equipment, appliances and signals of the railway were in first class condition."

Murray, the flagman, according to his statement, was sent back to flag the following train when the Bar Harbor came to a stop in front of the signals in the Bar Harbor signal number 232. Murray was recalled by a blast from the locomotive and Conductor Adams stopped the train to wait for him after it had cleared the danger signal by perhaps fifty feet. Miller was then recalled by a signal from the locomotive and he saw the White Mountain express at the same moment he ran over the torpedoes.

Miller was then 250 feet from the standing train and was running nearly forty miles an hour. Formal inquiry. New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—The formal inquiry by the interstate commerce commission into the New Haven wreck which resulted in the death of twenty-one persons and the injury of seventeen more here yesterday, will begin here Friday.

The interstate commerce commission will begin a public inquiry here on Friday into the cause of the wreck of the Bar Harbor express torpedoed yesterday by the White Mountain express seven miles north of here with a loss of twenty-one lives. Probably five of those injured will die. The hearing will be conducted by commissioner McChord who has invited the public utilities commission of the state to sit with him.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 3.—In closing its case under the Mann white slave act against St. Drew Caminetti to District Attorney Atkinson of Sacramento county on the way back from Reno after the arrest was read as taken down by W. D. Doan, a court reporter. This was an excerpt from the transcript in the possession of the government which the defense vainly sought to have introduced in the Diggs trial. Doan read the questions and answers from his notes. "Did you tell Lola Norris that you'd marry her," Mr. Atkinson had asked. "I believe I did," Caminetti had answered. "I don't want to make any statement. I'd be contradicted later, but I believe I did."

"Did you make the promise in good faith?" "Yes, I did." "Did you intend to leave your wife and children and marry her?" "Yes I did." Doan testified that a clipping from a Sacramento newspaper in which was printed an interview with Caminetti telegraphed from Reno was shown to him in the trial. In the interview he was quoted as having said that he intended to marry Miss Norris. "Did you say that, or substantially that?" District Attorney Atkinson asked. "I believe I did," Caminetti had answered. "Although I did not intend to be quoted."

Not a Fairy Story

Once upon a time there was a shrewd person who wanted his business prospects to reach a very influential man. He could not get to see him in person but he learned that he was a constant reader of a certain newspaper.

So the man who wanted something wrote an advertisement stating his proposition and worded in the way he believed would appeal to the ONE MAN he wanted to reach.

He put it in a prominent place in the newspaper read by the ONE MAN.

He kept it there and before many days rolled around it did just what he hoped it would, brought him to the attention of the customer.

Both profited—for this is a true advertising story. Now the point to you lies in the fact that there is probably some message in the advertising of today's Gazette that is written expressly to you.

Are you a reader of the advertising so you can catch the message? It may be important.

MUST EXERCISE CARE IN SELECTING SEED

NOYES RAESSLER GIVES SUGGESTIONS FOR GATHERING OF SEED CORN.

SOME VALUABLE HINTS

Precautions to be Taken in Gathering Seed Ears—Artificial Heat Most Satisfactory for Curing.

(By Noyes Raessler.)

In the early autumn when the corn leaves have begun to yellow, the husks are taking on a rich brown color, the farmer begins to breathe easier for he knows another corn crop is on the point of escaping the ravages of Jack Frost.

To the experienced seed corn grower these signs signify that it is time his corn curing house is put in perfect order. He knows that the seed ears must be gathered at once and will not stand any delay. A few rules which are now used universally throughout the corn belt by the most successful seed corn men, will be helpful to the boys of Rock county, who are now engaged in improving the quality and quantity of the southern Wisconsin corn crop.

Selecting Seed. In the first place remember that the strongest seed corn comes from a plant that has fully matured before frost strikes it. Therefore when you come to a large overgrown stalk bearing a sunny ear do not place this ear in your seed corn bag or basket. Pick uniform medium sized ears growing on stalks of medium height and you will get seed that will produce the best crops.

A great many dead ears are present in every corn field and these are the cause of most of the trouble with inexperienced corn growers. A little practice however, and most anyone can detect them.

Nearly all the ears which have been broken off by the wind before the corn has hardened, are sure to mould where the kernels are attached to the cob and their usefulness as seed is destroyed. Any ears dangling from the stalk should be avoided when picking seed.

Another way of determining the bad ears is to try to bend them with both hands. If they wiggle ever so slightly when fresh picked, they will not make good seed.

One thing more before the ears finally land in the seed basket and that is the cob—just where it breaks off of the shank. If the ear breaks off clear and the cob has a good healthy look, all is well but beware if you see a mouldy or bluish color on a fresh picked ear at this point. You cannot afford to place such ears in the curing room.

Now I have told you of so many things to avoid that some of you will wonder if there is any good corn left in the field to pick from. O yes, there is—and plenty of it so that there will be lots of it left after the seed house is full. That is why we want to keep all the bad ears outright on the start.

Curing the Seed. In Wisconsin we must depend upon artificial heat to dry our corn. It doesn't make much difference where the drying is done just so we provide moderate and uniform heat about 90 degrees F., and plenty of ventilation to carry off the moisture just as quickly as it leaves the corn.

The corn contains from 20 to 40 per cent of water when picked and must be reduced to about 12 percent before it can be safely stored away for planting.

Curing the seed consists in reducing the water to the required amount and doing it in such a way that no mould will set in during this process. There are several excellent facilities on nearly every farm for curing seed corn. The basement having a good cement floor and a furnace is one of the best provided the windows can be opened. The attic is another good place especially if the chimney or stove pipe passes through it.

The kitchen is not a very desirable place on account of the steam which comes from the cook stove. However even this is much better than hanging the ears outdoors.

Always hang the corn as near the ceiling as possible because the warmest air is found there. If the ears are placed on racks, do not allow any two ears to touch as the point of contact is slow in curing and often moulds.

At least six weeks of drying is necessary before the corn is cured and this is not until every ear is dry as bone. A little over-drying will hurt it, and it is just as well to be on the safe side.

The management of this corn contest aims to give every boy an opportunity to gather his acre of corn in such a way that he can put up as much of it for seed as he desires and at the same time get credit for every ear that grows on his acre.

Boys are sure to send in your report at once if you have not already done so. Promptness is the greatest secret of success, while delays are often disagreeable and expensive.

Let us hear from all who are still in the race, so the proper instructions may be sent to you.

Activity reigned among exhibitors and concessionaries at State Fair Park on Monday in preparation for the big exposition, which opens on Monday, September 8. Manufacturers and dealers in machinery, in particular, are on the ground early arranging their elaborate displays. On Sunday the park was the Mecca for many automobile parties.

Machinery hall, one of the largest buildings on the grounds, will contain only a small part of the machinery display, though a large amount of space apparently will be taken. Many of the large exhibitors are erecting gigantic tents adjacent to machinery hall for their private use. Several of these tents are each 250 feet long by 25 feet wide and the process of their erection on Saturday gave much the appearance of the setting up of a large circus. A greater part of the space in machinery hall will be occupied by the largest in the history of the state fair.

The packing of the ice chests in the dairy building began on Saturday and will be completed by Monday night. One filling of the refrigerators requires over 100 tons of ice, and more will be required frequently before the creamery exhibits are removed. The close of the fair, Creamery exhibits have been in place several days, as the rules require that they be in place by Tuesday, ready for the judges. The judging in the dairy department begins on Tuesday and will be completed by Saturday night. More than 20,000 pounds of butter and cheese in all standard varieties will be on display.

In connection with the other improvements to the new grandstand, the entire seating capacity will be available. The higher sections of seats will be particularly favorable, not only for watching the horse races, but for enjoying the wild west program with its relay races, stunts, boxing, chasing and roping of steers and Indian features. A powerful searchlight will be erected on the roof of the grandstand and will be kept playing about the entire park throughout each evening. This light will be of particular value while out-of-door wild west programs are in progress at night.

Nearly all the resurfacing of the streets about the park has been completed. Crushed granite was used to cover the oil surface. On Saturday and Sunday several of the principal streets were closed to give the opportunity for a harder, with a good surface. The thoroughfares will be smooth, hard and devoid of dust, which will add much to the comfort of patrons at the fair. The big addition to the county exhibits building will be completed by the middle of the week. It provides space for eleven counties, and there is a prospect that the added accommodations will be no more than adequate, as several more counties, heretofore unexpected, have announced their intention of making special displays. However, officials announce that every county will be accommodated. Not any of the county exhibits building space will be used for other purposes this year as in former years, excepting appropriate agricultural displays in the center of the building.

The large educational building has been found inadequate for the educational display, and it has been decided to appropriate the space in the model school building for regular educational exhibits. That space also will be all taken. Demands for additional space in both the poultry and dairy appliance departments, may be made as the superintendents announce that they are near the limit of their regular accommodations. Board officials announce, however, that such demands also will be met, if they are made, as it is the intention to accommodate satisfactorily every exhibitor who patronizes the Wisconsin state fair. There will be no unused space in either the horse or cattle barns.

More than fifty track horsemen are making use of track privileges at this time fitting their speeders for big cards next week. Special arrangements also are being made to fit the track properly for the automobile races, in which Speed King Rob Ruman, Harry Endicott and other noted drivers will participate on "Special Attraction Day," Saturday, September 12, following the close of the fair. The racing program will hold no races at Washington park next Sunday, but will reserve all its attractions for the program at the State Fair park on the following Saturday.

Department superintendents will be at the park practically all the time this week arranging the displays for the big show.

PRISONER IN COURT; NO JUDGE PRESIDES

District Attorney Dunwiddie Takes Legal Precaution in Case Against William Ambrose.

William Ambrose, charged with a serious offense on the complaint of his seventeen year old daughter, whose case was returnable in the Janesville municipal court at ten o'clock this morning, was brought in to court although there was no judge presiding. District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie had his objection to a trial against Ambrose in readiness to file, believed that this was a wise procedure and would leave no loop-hole or legal technicality upon which the defendant might rest a case. A minute of the case was made at court chamber to the effect that Ambrose appeared for his trial and that the district attorney was prepared to file his information. A. C. Thorpe, clerk of the court under Judge Field, was present, but did not consider that he had any legal right to enter an official record.

As soon as the new judge is appointed it will be necessary to set a date for the Ambrose trial and to appoint an attorney to defend him. In the meantime Ambrose will be held at the county jail where he was remanded in default of arrangements for bail.

The case of the state against James Cheeseman and Matthew Taylor, also returnable in the municipal court, will also await the appointment of a new judge.

FOLLOWS CARNIVAL TO ESCAPE SCHOOL?

Mrs. Emma Matson Believes Her Fourteen Year Old Son Ran Away With Mother Shows.

Mrs. Emma Matson, 52, North First street, had received no word to day of the whereabouts of her fourteen year old son, Walter, who she believes, ran away with the Miller carnival company's show on Saturday night to escape the necessity of attending school for which he has a particular aversion. Mrs. Matson notified the local police of the fact that her son was missing on Tuesday and efforts were made to locate him to day without avail.

The boy talked freely with a boarder at his mother's home regarding the carnival and it was evident that he was attracted by the glamour of the show business. He left in the early Saturday and has not been seen since.

Walter Matson is described as being of slender build and of quiet and unassuming nature. He was dressed in a brown suit and took with him his overalls and jumpers, indicating his intentions to seek work. The lad had blue eyes and brown hair. Any information regarding his location will be gladly received by his grief stricken mother.

The executive board met at Library Hall with the constitutional committee on Tuesday afternoon and it was then proposed to suggest the following committees to the club: Education, sanitation, streets and alleys, parks, young people's auxiliary, charity, co-ordination, membership, and press.

The meeting on Thursday will reach a final settlement of these questions and a large attendance is urged.

Newest in Begging.

The beggar on horseback used to be common everywhere, but up in Kansas they have just arrested a beggar who was traveling in an automobile by night and pleading poverty by day. His plan was to leave his wife in charge of their conveyance every morning while he went out and gratted enough money to buy a few gallons of gasoline.—Dallas News.

Joy in Doing Good Work.

The recipe for self-confidence is: Do good work. "Courage," says Emerson, "comes from having done the thing before." A man who does good work does not have to talk, apologize or explain—his work speaks. And even though there be no one to appreciate it, the man feels in it a great, quiet joy. He relaxes, smiles, rests, fully intent on taking up his labors tomorrow and doing better than ever.

It was Tommy's first day in the country, and everything surprised him. About sunset one day a herd of cows returning from pasture came following their leader slowly; and solemnly in single file along the forest path within sight of Tommy and his mother. After watching them for some time in silence the little city boy exclaimed: "Oh, mother, is it a cow funeral?"

SPORT Snap-Shots

The pigskin heroes are beginning to find space on the sport pages and soon we will be juggling with forward passes, trick formations and three yards. The mention of football even this early brings to mind a suggestion of falling leaves, crisp, frosty evenings and pretty girls in sweaters. The autumn is a pleasant season and we're for it. Football is a good, earnest, strenuous game and we're in favor of it as well. There is scarcely a better outlet for the pent-up nervous energy of the young American who attends college. Let us hope this season there will be no more silly agitation against the many times inflated "brutal features" of the game. Charles Brickley, the Harvard star, has wired his coach that he expects to be on hand for early training and in the p. of c.

Willie Mitchell and Joe Jackson of the Cleveland Naps are both very glad indeed that they are teammates. The fact of Jackson's continual good humor is accounted for by the reason that he plays on the same team with Willie Mitchell and Mitchell is ever smiling just because Jackson draws his salary from the same boss. Mitchell and Jackson like each other immensely and get along fine, but that isn't exactly it. Listen to Joe's reason: "Willie Mitchell is the hardest pitcher in the league for me to hit. He has a ball that looks like a balloon and the only thing I've ever been able to do with it in practice is to get it on the handle and break all my bats. I've given up trying to hit him. The cost of bats adds up." Here's Mitchell's reason: "Joe Jackson is my idea of no pleasant person to pitch to. He's the most dangerous man in either league to twirl to and when he comes up in batting practice

I offer up a little prayer. And when the ball goes by me without any fatalities I'm doubly thankful." So it appears that there is an ulterior motive.

Punk pitching is the reason why Clark Griffith's crew of youngsters haven't done what was expected of them this season and aside from the work of Walter Johnson and Joe Boehling, the phenom recruit, the Nationals' pitching has been very sad indeed. Boehling and Johnson have won two-thirds of the games won by the Washington outfit. Between them they have won 42 games and lost 10, a percentage of .808. Johnson has won 20 games and Boehling of course, 13. Groom, Kagle, Hughes, Cashion and Galis, the quintet of quinces, have put the Washington bunch in the discard. Griff had counted on old Tom Hughes and Bob Groom to show the stuff this season and help make the grade, but they somehow couldn't. Groom has managed to win half his games and the best Hughes could do was to cop one out of every three.

They can't keep C. Webb Murphy out of the papers. Lately Charlie has come to bat with suggestions for changes in the baseball rules and he is urging that there be a convention this winter to consider a number of changes in the baseball rules and he is urging that there be a convention this winter to consider a number of changes in the present scheme of things. Murphy has several new thoughts which he has cooked up with Comiskey of the White Sox. He has suggested that four big league managers, four umpires and four baseball writers be selected to compose a committee on revision.

BUTTERS DEFEATED BY DEKALB NINE

Janesville Pitcher Loses Hard Game at Belvidere Monday by Seven to Four Score.

"Cuddy" Butters, pitcher and second baseman for the Janesville Cardinals, lost a hard fought game with the Belvidere Nationals Labor Day after holding his opponents to eight hits and striking out nine men. The Belvidere nine seemed unable to hit in the pinches enough to push the markers across. "Cuddy" was given errorless support but five runs in the sixth inning and two in the first proved his downfall. Butters snatched out a two-bagger that figured in the run getting for his teammates.

On Sunday afternoon the hardest fought game of the year is expected as the Cards are to cross bats with the Belvidere team at the Driving Park. Tillie will again face Grandall in a slobmen's battle and Janesville fans look for a victory for the Milton college pitcher as he outclassed Tillie in every way at Belvidere.

In response to the challenge issued by Barney's Colts the Cardinals are asking, "Who are Barney's Colts?" This unknown team claims that it can trim the Cards but as yet there has been no information regarding the identity of the Colts. Captain Hall of the Cards has games booked for the rest of the season with teams of high calibre and deems it unwise to chance any game with a team who have not played before this season.

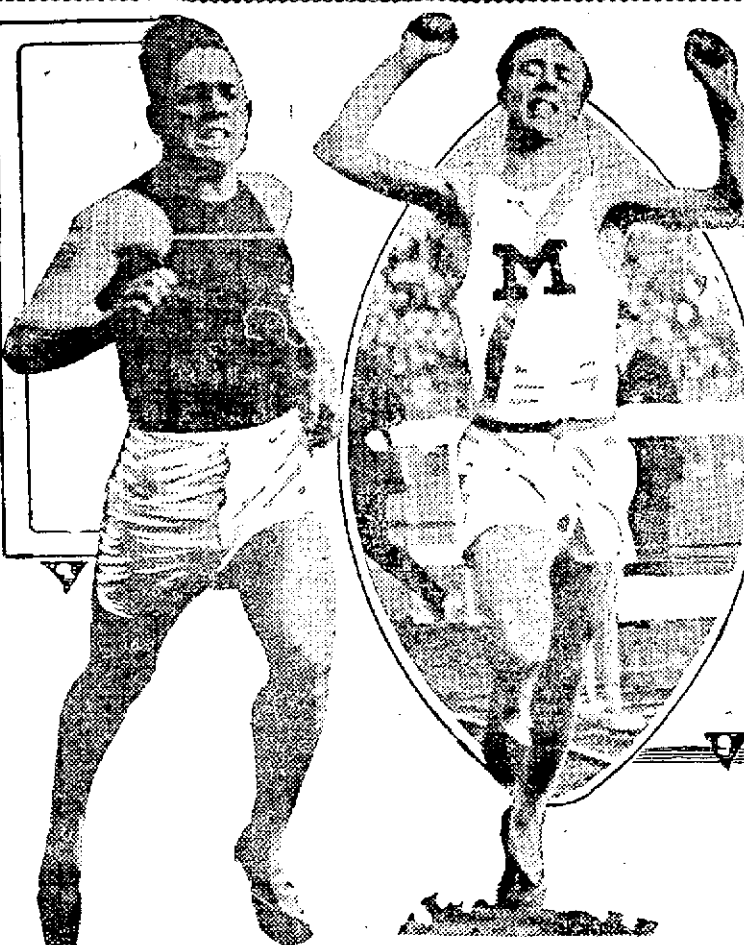

Fights Scheduled for Tonight. Al Palmer vs. Frank Morin, ten rounds, at New York.

SCHALK'S BRILLIANT WORK BEHIND BAT KEEPS RED KUHN ON WHITE SOX BENCH

Ray Schalk.

Although Red Kuhn made a splendid showing behind the bat for the Chicago White Sox last year, catching a majority of the games, this season finds him spending a good deal of the time on the bench. The reason for this is that Ray Schalk, the new White Sox backstop, is quite a bit better than Kuhn. Schalk is catching in most of the games and certainly is making a fine record.

Not in years has so much attention been focused upon an athletic meeting as that which has been centered on the "greatest games of the decade" under the auspices of the Greater New York Fair and Exposition, in New York, city Aug. 21-23.

Not alone will the majority of the American "champs" be seen in competition, but a number of the best of foreigners who took part in the Olympic games. These men will include C. B. Huff of Michigan, the present 440-yard man of America; Ted Meredith, the Olympic champion at both 440 y-eters and 600 metres, and Jean Bouin of France.

The recent sensational escape of Harry Thaw from Matteawan and the consequent publicity which has come to him is proving one of the best things, from a purely material standpoint, that ever happened to his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

York vaudeville house. So sensational have they been and so well known is she that even before Thaw's escape she was a great drawing card. But since Thaw's escape the crowds have been much larger, and now it is announced that Evelyn's contract has been extended four weeks. Legitimate and variety managers are outbidding themselves for her services. She is said to have turned down an offer for an American tour at $2,000 a week.

Evelyn pretends to be frightened to death lest her husband shall appear at one of the performances and kill her. These "fears" on her part have helped swell the crowds, as there are some who always like to be present when any great tragedy is likely to occur.

IMPORTANT FACTOR IN WINNING PENNANT

Jack Barry.

That the Philadelphia Athletics have the American league pennant sewed up this year is due more to Jack Barry than to any other individual member of the team. Barry isn't a flashy player, but he's one of the most consistent fielders, throwers, base runners and timely hitters in the business. Also he's the best thinker in Connie Mack's brainy squad.

Art Treasures Unearthed.

Whales Target of Torpedo Boats.

The novel scene of a torpedo boat hunting whales was witnessed at Porto Arzio, Italy, a few days ago. The operations of a fishing fleet had been interrupted by the appearance of two large whales. The torpedo boat put out in pursuit of the whales, and killed them both with their guns.

BIGOTED IDEAS.
That even in this day of enlightenment bigoted prejudice exists throughout the world relative to certain creeds and religions is evidenced by the actions of civilized communities throughout the world. The Eagle, the official organ of the P. O. E., in a recent editorial discusses the prejudice against the Jews in the following manner:

"The prejudice which for more than fifteen centuries has caused cruel persecutions of Jews, is founded upon a belief that is both bigoted and false; namely, that the Jews as a people were responsible for the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth.

"The careful, fair-minded reader of the New Testament narrative must be convinced that the vast majority of the people of Jerusalem and Judea were not responsible for the death of Jesus; that, instead, the transactions resulting in the crucifixion were carefully concealed from them.

"The death of Jesus was sought and compassed by a jealous hierarchy of rulers, scribes and priests—reactionaries of their time—who feared that the progressive doctrines which He taught would subvert their autocratic authority. They had reason for this fear; for we read that the 'common people heard Him gladly.' And the 'common people' were Jews. It is moreover stated that on several occasions when the rulers sought to apprehend Jesus, they refrained because 'they feared the people, who regarded him as a prophet.' When finally action was taken, it was in the night while the great body of Jews were asleep. The farcical trial was carried out, the sentence of death secured, and before Jerusalem was awake the death march to Calvary was already outside the city. It was not the people who on Sunday had cast their garments in His path and hailed Him king, that on the following Friday morning cried out, 'Crucify Him!'

This latter rabble was a crowd of 'healers' gathered by the rulers, and no more representative of the Jewish people than is a packed caucus representative of a political party in our day.

"Yet, for nearly 2,000 years the whole Jewish race has been held responsible for a deed which all the evidence indicates was contrary to the wish of a majority of the people; and the contrast between the action of the multitude on Palm Sunday and the 'rabble' on Good Friday, has pointed many a moral of the fickleness of the populace.

"One of the cheering indications of social progress in these days is the fact that in the more enlightened countries this groundless bigotry is disappearing."

MEAN BUSINESS.
That the city administration means business is evidenced by the fact that even the fire and police commission has been re-organized on a business basis and instead of holding meetings, on call of the president, will gather monthly to hear reports of the chiefs of the fire and police departments and discuss matters relative to two important departments. Efficiency is to be the watchword of the city government and everything will be done to see that the various branches of the civic life of the city are fully equipped for the best service possible. Rome was not built in a day. It took years to construct this wonderful city of ancient and modern times and neither can all the petty abuses of the city life which have existed for years be done away from immediately. The more flagrant abuses, however, will be remedied at once and it is to be hoped that the extreme measures with which the mayor and council are empowered may not be found necessary to insure obedience to the laws and ordinances.

Speaker Clark has gone to the rescue of the administration currency bill. Still, not having planned to leave his duties to go back on the chautauqua circuit, he can't claim to be as great a financier as Secretary Bryan.

Public men often earn the gratitude of the people for the things they don't do. Governor Blease of South Carolina is out in a letter complaining that the national administration has completely ignored him.

It is claimed that owning and running an automobile make a man young again. Some of them, it judge by their driving, have gone back to the twelve-year-old period.

Senator Bristow bewails the mad haste with which the tariff bill is being rushed through congress. Apparently the senator, when he travels, rides in a caboose.

A German aviator reports that he ran his machine into a shower of meteors. Still it could have been worse. They might have been cold-storage eggs.

It was a milk wagon that helped Harry Thaw to escape. Perhaps if it had been a water wagon the desire to recapture him would not have been so keen.

In reducing the Mexican situation from its position of paramount importance Secretary Bryan was not half so successful as young Mr. Thaw.

Senator Ben Tillman says the American home has broken down and the country is tottering to its fall. Horray for Ben; at last he is himself again.

Boston contemplates giving a municipal picnic. Most of us know the ordinary picnic, but a Boston picnic—imagination staggers and is unable to work.

"Death is merely a habit," says a member of the National New Thought Alliance. But, like stopping to look at the score-board, it seems hard to break.

Daily life is being made harder for the idle rich. A man with $20,000 saved in his clothing has been arrested in Pittsburgh for vagrancy.

Somebody ought to find out whether anything is the matter with Kansas. During the recent drought it was without not only water but beer.

Mr. Chaloner opines that Mr. Thaw is not insane. There are numerous others of undoubted sanity who opine that he never was.

And it is only a few short weeks since Governor Sulzer thought it a considerable affliction to be accused of writing anatomy verse.

"It is hard to detect a ten dollar counterfeit bill." Sure. Nobody can keep one long enough to become familiar with its features.

If it isn't one thing, it's another. Now we are about to be afflicted with moving pictures of Harry Thaw's escape.

Of course, New Orleans is properly indignant over the refusal of those European countries to take part in the San Francisco exposition.

New York lawyers should cheer up. The Thaw meal ticket is not likely to remain in the hands of the Canadian bar very long.

The Atlantic Refinery company is about to cut a 400 per cent melon. This trust busting is great for business.

Senator Tillman needs a longer handle for his pitchfork. Norway has just appointed its first woman judge.

Wonder whether the "blue sky" law of Kansas had anything to do with that long dry spell.

New York doesn't know who its governor is, but it has no trouble in recognizing its boss.

SPUR-MOMENT

According to Uncle Abner, Summer gits its clothes in the climate and not much else. The less clothes a woman wears, the less they seem to cost.

No man ever knows very much about trouble until he buys a second-hand automobile at a bargain.

There may be many methods of saving money exploited by the special writer on the newspapers, but the only real way to save money is not to spend it.

One of the drawbacks to enjoying a pleasant summer is the knowledge that a lot of galsots are writing musical comedies which we must sit through next winter.

Muzzles, Please. The authorities in various cities are warning dog owners that the dog days have come and that they must muzzle the animals. It might be well to suggest at this juncture that the dogs are not the only ones who should be muzzled. We advocate muzzles for the following:

Musical ship enters in cafes. Jingoos who predict war with Japan and Mexico.

Con shorters in vaudeville. All slide trombone players. Fishing bars.

Ice cream corners. Street car platform pipe smokers. Summer resort serenaders. Street corner medicine venders.

Gentlemen who relate funny things done by their children.

Failures who are continually offering advice.

Gossips.

A Fable Not by Aesop. Once upon a Time there came from the Tall Ucut an emerald Stranger with the rural dew dropping from his patient red plush cow. He met three City Gentlemen in front of the Mahogany and with One Foot on the grass rail he joined them for some time in celebrating the Declaration of Independence. It cost him Nothing and he came up to the Hook like a Brook Trout after a red flannel fly.

Along toward the Shank of the Evening, noticing a watchman in the region of the Stranger's inside vest pocket, suggested a Little Two Bit limit to drive Dull Care away. The Good Thing was simply suffering from enlargement of the Heart and not from an aggravated Bank Roll, as the City Gentlemen supposed, but he didn't Pipe it off and Fell for the Prameup.

At About Nine Bells the Good Thing had eight pils of the patriotically colored Celluloid Table in front of him and held Jacks or Better every time he scrambled the Pasteboards. Every time he pried the lid off a John Kettle for Two Beans the City Gentlemen and several proxemics of the Diaphragm and Flapjacks of the Nether Extremities. At Twelve Bells the Good Thing pulled Three Typewriters and a pair of Bell Hops off the bottom of the deck and played the Headlight as strong as a Film show. It was an Old Trick, his Grandfather had taught him during the Long Winter Evenings on the Farm and it garnered in three pairs of trousers, three shirts, and three imitation diamond pictures, after which the Three City Gentlemen agreed Thirty Day notes for their Glad Rags and patterned the Asphalt for Home.

The Good Thing took stock and murmured peevishly, "Huh! It's a Pipe! This is the Lightest Haul I have made in this Burg in my whole life. I must be gettin' to be a Piker, the Luck runs so punk." The City Gentlemen expressed a different view of the matter among themselves and are now waiting where the Chairs each have One Wide Arm.

Moral—It is possible to get Too Much of a Good Thing.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

MOTHERS' PENSIONS.

A short time ago the newspapers reported the first mothers' pension ordered in Philadelphia.

This is a new thing in America, although there has been more or less agitation in its behalf for the past few years, and some progress has been made in Illinois and elsewhere.

Now comes the welcome news that mothers' pension legislation is before the legislatures of many states.

While the idea is new in this country, however, it has been tried with great success in Europe.

As advocated in the United States the mothers' pension is supposed to cover only cases of actual need—where the mother has been left a widow or is in indigent circumstances for other reasons.

The argument in its favor is not only sentimental, but economic. It is claimed on expert authority that it is cheaper to give the mother a certain stated amount to look after her little ones than it would be to keep them in an institution.

Sounds reasonable, doesn't it? Besides, it is better for the children. Their mother is their natural protector.

It keeps the family together. A child needs a mother's love and care as much as it needs food, clothing and shelter.

In after years it becomes a better man or woman because of the memory of a mother's love.

Such a recollection lends moral stature and spiritual background.

Who ever heard of any one shedding tears or resolving to reform and lead a better life over the memory of an institution?

Only the thought of a mother can work these spells.

We give countless millions to the care of helpless adults, to the insane, the very poor and the defective.

Yet these have no future. Neither are they of any benefit to society.

Why should we not give to the care of the children? They are the citizens of the future.

There exists as great sentimental reasons to cherish them as to house the defective adults. In addition there is the powerful economic reason that every dollar expended for them is more than repaid in their value to society.

Charity for them is not a gift, but an investment.

The most businesslike way to make this investment is to place it in the hands of their mothers. That plan insures the largest return on the money.

Each of us can help in this worthy cause by seeing that the legislators of our respective states exact mothers' pension legislation.

If you think well of it why not write to your state senator and representative to that effect?

Avoid Argument at Table. Nothing is a better accompaniment to a meal than lively, cheerful conversation. But he who introduces at the table an unpleasant topic or starts an argument that may arouse animosity or be pursued too earnestly is not fit company for man or beast. He is imperiling the digestion of every one present.

DON'T LET BABY SUFFER WITH ECZEMA AND SKIN ERUPTIONS. Babies need a perfect skin-covering. Skin eruptions cause them not only intense suffering, but hinder their growth. DR. HOBSON'S ECZEMA OINTMENT can be relied on for relief and permanent cure of suffering babies whose skin eruptions have made their life miserable. "Our baby was afflicted with breaking out of the skin all over the face and scalp. Doctors and skin specialists failed to help. We tried Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment and were overjoyed to see baby completely cured before one box was used" writes Mrs. Strubler, "Waukegan, Iowa." All druggists, or by mail, 50c.

DRUM CORPS MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE

Spanish War Veterans Buglers and Drummers Play Martial Airs on Streets Last Night.

Residents of North Bluff street were entertained last evening by the vigorous martial music of the newly organized drum corps of the local camp of United Spanish War Veterans. The corps, which has been practicing faithfully for a number of weeks past under the direction of Captain Hans Jaekle, made its first public appearance last night, marching from the club rooms in the Carle block to North Bluff street and north on Bluff street to the viaduct. Crowds of citizens gathered along the street as the buglers and drummers, uniformed in khaki suits and felt hats, came playing vigorous tunes. They were enthusiastically applauded for the entire course.

The corps is at present composed of Captain Hans Jaekle, Ralph Anderson, Rush Berg, and John Schumacher; buglers; and Bert Hill, Merton Miller, George Gerald and Bernal Sullivan, drummers. It is planned to add eight fifters to the corps later on and to increase the number of drummers and buglers to make the total number of the corps thirty-two musicians.

It is possible that the corps will make another public appearance on Friday night which is the next regular practice night. The young men are progressing with their playing in excellent style and the organization promises to be a credit to the local camp.

PROMOTION COMES TO C. L. MILLER; MOVES TO MADISON, OCT. 1

District Manager of the Wisconsin Telephone Company to Take Charge of Important District for Company.

C. L. Miller, who has been manager of the Janesville division of the Wisconsin Telephone company for the past year, including the counties of Rock, Green, La Fayette and part of Grant and Iowa counties and previous to that, since March, 1911, had been in charge of the local office in Janesville, will leave on October 1 to take charge of the Madison division of the company with headquarters at Madison.

Mr. Miller's new position is a change of one of the most important divisions of the Wisconsin Telephone company outside of Milwaukee. It is even more important than the Milwaukee exchange itself. There are fourteen of the largest exchanges in the middle portion of the state in the district, including the Madison office, which is one of the busiest outside of the Milwaukee central exchange.

Mr. Miller is succeeded in Janesville by J. A. McManis of La Crosse and Mr. Miller succeeds F. J. Mayer, who goes to the engineering department of the company located in Milwaukee. Since coming to Janesville Mr. Miller has made many warm personal friends who will regret his leaving the city, but extend their congratulations on his promotion.

GEORGE KIMBALL IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Named Head of Janesville Fire and Police Commission at Meeting Last Evening.

At the meeting of the Janesville Fire and Police Commission held at the mayor's office at the city hall last evening, George Kimball was elected president of the board to succeed Harry O. Nowlan, resigned. Mr. Nowlan's place on the commission was filled by Francis Grant who was appointed to fill the unexpired term by Mayor Fathers. Mr. Grant was present at the meeting last night.

Mr. Kimball was appointed to the commission by Mayor Vilbur Carlisle May 15 for a regular five year term. He has been prominent in city affairs, having served the third ward in the common council in addition to his service on the Fire and Police Commission. His election met with the approval of all the members of the board and will doubtless be satisfactory to citizens generally.

By special request on the part of Mr. O. Mout, attorney for A. C. Metzinger, and upon consent of Thomas S. Nolan, attorney for Cornelius J. Murphy, the hearing of the charges brought against Murphy by Metzinger was postponed for two weeks. Mr. Mout notified Mayor Fathers Monday afternoon of the agreement of counsel in the matter and asked for the delay.

It was decided that the commission shall meet once a month hereafter at which time reports will be received from the chief of police and the chief of the fire department relative to the conditions of their respective branches of the city government.

AWARDED DIPLOMAS TO NINETEEN MORE

That Number of Common School Pupils Passed Examination Held On August 28th.

Nineteen diplomas have been granted by Superintendent of Schools O. D. Anusdel to pupils in the district schools and state graded schools, not including Milton and Milton Junction, who passed the special examinations held in this city on August 28. This brings the total number granted this year up to about 150, from 20 to 30 more than the average number awarded.

Superintendent Anusdel has been busy checking over the reports of the school clerks of the county and summarizing them for transmission to the office of State Superintendent Cary. Some of the reports have had to be sent back to the clerks for correction of inaccuracies. The original reports are kept on file in the office of the County Superintendent.

The next teachers' examinations will be held on October 25.

NURSES IN SESSION AT THE CITY HALL

Annual Meeting of Southern Wisconsin Nurses' Association Held This Afternoon.

Nurses from a half dozen cities in the southern part of the state were present at the annual meeting of the Southern Wisconsin Nurses' Association at three o'clock this afternoon at the assembly room of the city hall. A special program for the session had been arranged with several speakers. Some matters of business were included for consideration. A social was scheduled to follow the program.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Orleans, La., Sept. 3.—After having been the direct cause of several law suits and a number of troubling experiences 2165 boxes of ammunition and 156 cases of rifles have been returned to a northern arms factory. The arms were intended originally, it is believed, for the ill-starred revolt of Felix Diaz at Vera Cruz. Keen eyed men, kept here by the Department of Justice, stopped the shipment. Several Mexicans were arrested and tried, but acquitted. A large hardware firm also was called upon to answer for an alleged attempt to break the neutrality laws but no infraction of the law was shown. Since then there have been several changes in the ownership of the property, but all efforts to get the ammunition out of the country have failed. The last owner, an Englishman, from Mexico City, who bought the arms and ammunition for speculative purposes found the arms company itself the best purchaser he could find.

FORMER RESIDENT IS TO STUDY IN ORIENT

Miss Gail Lane to Take up Work in The Young Women's Christian Association Work in India.

Miss Gail Lane, who for a year past has been secretary of the Fresno, California Y. W. C. A. and who lived in Janesville several years ago, leaves September 7th for work in the Indian branch of the association work. Miss Lane will be remembered by many in Janesville when she attended the high school here. She completed the sophomore year and then went with her mother to Marshall, Missouri, later graduating from the college at Lexington, Mo. She is the granddaughter of one of the pioneers of Rock county, A. F. Hoskins, and is the daughter of Dr. M. Lane Hansar of Oklahoma. The following account of her proposed work from a Fresno paper will be of interest to her friends here:

Selected by the world committee of the Young Women's Christian association at the recent conference at Pacific Grove, Miss Gail Lane, secretary of the Fresno Y. W. C. A., is called to a greater field of endeavor in India, as general city and student secretary of the big Y. W. C. A. in Madras. Upon the result of a stringent medical examination which will be concluded tonight, rests Miss Lane's future work as she has accepted the call, provided she may be able to reach the high mark of physical efficiency demanded in the examination for Oriental fields.

Should Miss Lane not be able to go, she will turn her attention to the development of a county Y. W. C. A. in this section for which there is believed to be an urgent demand.

In her new work on the southeast coast of India, Miss Lane would be associated with the Indian national secretary, and would be in charge of one of the largest associations in the Orient.

Miss Lane will leave, if she can go, the first of September for New York City. There she will spend two months in the national training school, taking up special preparatory work for Indian service. Miss Lane will stay in England for some time studying the work there as the association work in India is carried on principally by British women, before leaving for her final destination.

If Miss Lane is to leave, Miss Ruby E. Gracier of Berkeley, the newly chosen secretary of the Fresno Y. W. C. A. will come to Fresno the first of next month or earlier to study in similar conditions with Miss Lane until the latter must go. Otherwise Miss Gracier will not enter into her new duties in this city until the first of September. She would then be associated with Miss Lane for some time until the latter gradually veers off into county work under the direction of the field committee. Rural Y. W. C. A. work is to be started near Los Angeles September first and will be taken up in this country. If Miss Lane is here to superintend the work by January, 1914.

Miss Mary Bentley, former student secretary in Berkeley, then field secretary in New England and later student secretary in Calcutta, England has been chosen by the late conference as student executive of California Arizona and Nevada, and will visit this city some time this fall.

Miss Margaret Matthews of Berkeley, for five years student secretary at Tokyo, Japan, is touring the Pacific coast, investigating the condition of the student bodies of the Y. W. C. A. and will be in Fresno October 27 and 28. On the 27th she will interest herself in the normal Y. W. C. A. and on the 28th in the city work.

Miss Lane asserts that her success in Fresno work, her position as student executive of the association in the United States, and predicted great progress under her leadership.
